UNDERCLASSES

"Rah! Rah! Rah! Sophomores!" Will the Class of 1960 ever forget these shouts as they catered to the orders of Most Honorable, Elite, Elegant, Energetic Elaine and Mr. Schmoyer? Three and a half weeks of dinks, name tags, step shows, and customs meetings finally ended when the Freshmen united as the class of 1960 and elected their class officers on October 26, 1956. The Junior Class officers introduced the officers of the Freshmen Class at the Freshman banquet on October 29. The first independent project of the class was the Freshman Dance, entitled "Showboat." As all the southern belles and their dates whirled on the floor of the T-G gym to the tunes of Floyd Baker and his Rhythmaires, the warmth of such southern hospitality seemed to predict a happy future for the class of 1960.

Treasurer

We Sophs began our year by renewing old acquaintances at the drug, the coffee shop and the supply. Under the direction of class officers, Ben Houser, Merril Anderson, Linda Brenner, and Al Daniels, we organized class activities. "Elite, Elegant, Energetic Elaine" and Mr. Schmoyer, Sir, kept the Frosh stepping as head of the customs committee.

Our first social function of the year was the "Dogpatch Drag"—a successful turnabout dance with the educated schmoos, and all the famous dogpatch characters. Second semester brought the annual Soph Hop. Once again we displayed our ability to work together as a class and produced a successful dance.

We have enjoyed these two years at Ursinus and are looking forward to the continuation of our college career of education and social activities.

The Class of 1958 opened its class record by electing Bob Gilgore as Freshman president and making a name for themselves with their first dance, "Hawaiian Holiday." The class spirit and cooperation thus well begun carried over into the Sophomore year as Hal Redden took over the position of class president. The highlights of that year were the dance in January entitled "Le Chat Noir," the combo dance in March with the invitation to "Meet the Four Guys." In April the class sponsored two functions: a record dance in the Student Union for the Marge Dawkins-Ruth Heller Hockey Fund, and the Soph Hop, "Oriental Paradise."

Maintaining the same officers, the Class went into their third year at Ursinus. Ann Leger and Tom Bannigus were elected as co-editors for the 1958 Ruby. "Dare Arndt Tanz" with its Pennsylvania Dutch setting was held in November, and the Junior Prom entitled "Fantasia" was a colorful success at Sunnybrook in the Spring. Three such successful years indicate a bright road ahead for the Class of 1958.

"Memories, memories, thoughts of days gone by." This popular refrain of a song of yesterday brings with it cherished thoughts of our college days.

Oh, those first Freshman Days! Filled with awe and a sense of expectancy, we donned our dinks and name tags and knew we were just "itty-bitty Frosh." The days of Customs were filled with activities, under the iron rule of Notable Noble Nesta and the most "exalted Ray." After spending some anxious moments before the Freshman Banquet, we officially became a class under the leadership of Dick Hummel. December brought our first Christmas festivities and banquet. In our second semester we had our first opportunity to work together as a class. At this time we successfully held our Frosh Dance, "Ebb-Tide."

Then as Sophs, we were on the other side of the fence. Fragile Agile Ann and Bruno Briner took charge of Freshman Customs. The class, led by President Joe Donia, presented two successful dances, "Fantasy in Fire" and "The Shamrock Shuffle." It was during this year that our class acquired its name, The Successful Radicals.

In our Junior year we assumed our role as upper-classmen. Led again by Joe, we proved that we had a real flare for decorating when we presented the fall spectacular, "Starlight of the Seas." Our Junior Prom, "Blossom Time," was held at Sunnysbrook. Proudly we watched Sonnie, our Queen, emerge from an arbor of dogwood blossoms.

With the coming of fall, we approached our Senior year with a mixture of emotions. We realized that graduation would soon be upon us and that our college years were only a part of a complete lifetime; however, this realization did not deter us from the exuberant whirl of senior activities. We participated in our last pep rallies, saw our last bonfire and busily engaged in decorating our dorms for our final homecoming. We were quite the sophisticates, as we stage our Senior Ball, "High Society." We saw Joan and Dick crowned Lord and Lady of the Ball. That same night, the officers, Joe, Lee, Bonnie and Dick, who had led our class for two years, were elected as our permanent officers.

Christmas at Ursinus will be among our fondest memories. How can we ever forget the banquet, the laughter of the dorm parties, the solemn singing of "Silent Night" around the Christmas tree and the festive caroling of the fraternities?

Spring semester came, and with it a shipwreck party, given by our Ruby and the Spirit Committee. Again we proved our talent by writing and presenting a senior show. We felt a pang of sadness as we participated in our final May Day, and went to our last dinner dances. With a sigh of relief we took our last exams. Finally—there was graduation. During the exercises we sat among our classmates and felt a common bond linking us to each other. Moments as these cannot last, but their effects will last forever.

"... as modern as the new perspectives of tomorrow." To establish the "forward look" well in their minds, the 1957 Ruby staff began work on the book even before reaching senior status. Under the watchful eye of their co-editors, Helen Stevenson and Lee Lawhead, the Ruby attempted to climax an unprecedented four years with a tribute to yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

The Ursinus Weekly was created in 1900 as "... a means for the regular dissemination of ... matter pertaining to Ursinus College, its students, its alumni, and its friends ...". It is the Weekly's purpose—and policy—not only to publish news of immediate and lasting interest to its readers in every one of its twenty-two editions printed each year, but also to act as a sort of "sounding board" for opinion and thought of all kinds on topics with which the student body is concerned.

The Lantern strives to provide the College with good literature, both poetry and prose. In doing so, it offers all interested students an opportunity to use their writing ability. Beginning with Barrie Ciliberti's "Diamonds and Mushrooms" of the December issue, the magazine has included a section entitled "Editor's Choice," wherein works of exceptional merit are presented. By publishing articles on a wide variety of topics of themes, The Lantern has attained a diversity that appeals to readers of all interests.

Perhaps the real purpose of our organization lies deeper than its rich educational values. Here a theme is first heard to which we will move for a lifetime. For a period of four years we move as a whole in labs, in classes—absorbing and reflecting. So we meet to understand and perceive better the nature of our future. Here at Ursinus we have had opportunities to hear those who can think of us as their personal past and thus give us an even fuller understanding of what lies ahead in the field of medicine.

beardwood chemical society

The Beardwood Chemical Society offers interested students an affiliation with the American Chemical Society. Monthly meetings featured Dr. Ralph Tekel of the Research Laboratories of the National Drug Company speaking on "Drugs from the Test Tube to the Consumer," an Ursinus graduate reporting on the work of the student in chemistry graduate schools, and films on the applications of chemistry.

Led by its captain, Bud Walker, the Debating Society enjoyed another active season. Ursinus students appeared on the television program "Debate" on three occasions. In the fall, new debaters got their "boot training" at the Temple Novice Tournament. An Ursinus standout at the Tau Kappa Alpha National Debate Tournament at Rutgers was Ismar Schorsch, who captured second place in both the debating and public speaking contests.

While primarily an eating club, this upperclassmen's organization takes an interest in improving student attitude. The first production of the Ursinus Theatre season staged by the Curtain Club was Thornton Wilder's thought-provoking drama, "Our Town," under the direction of H. Lloyd Jones, faculty director, and Bobbe Hunt, student director. So that the new members of the club may become familiar with all aspects of play production, the Curtain Club offers a selection of one-act plays. This year's presentations included "The Plum Tree" directed by Carol Robacher and Norm Abramson, and "The Valiant" directed by Ed Sella and Diana Vye.

As an experiment this year the Club undertook the presentation of a scene from Shakespeare during the spring term. The season was concluded with the annual Spring play held on May Day weekend.

The right to wear the blue and gold of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, requires all-around interest, experience and service in Ursinus dramatics. The eight student members act as a nucleus for the Curtain Club, offering guidance, according to their motto, "humble artistry." One member advises the production of each group play; all participate on the casting committee for the Fall and Spring presentations. In October, the fraternity witnessed "Diary of Anne Frank" on Broadway. In the spring, the annual television play was enacted. Cast activities were under the leadership of Director Wayne Millward, Stage Manager Bobbe Hunt, Business Manager Marilyn Kuebler, and faculty members H. Lloyd Jones, Geoffry Dolman, and Dr. and Mrs. Helfferich.

Good will and brotherhood, traditional of Beta Sig, were very evident this year. The orphans' party—a rewarding success—followed a series of bright social events. Included was the Jazz Jamboree, at which Les Applegate—with one arm out of commission—jitterbugged his way to fame. Homecoming found many of the old guard taking time out from the cares of the world to visit with their undergraduate colleagues. New brothers were welcomed at the formal initiation stag. The dinner dance, held in May, rounded out the social roster.

Unforgettable fun and friendship! What better words could describe the brotherhood of DEMAS fraternity? After "Pigskin Promenade" swept the campus, our rushing season again tagged the best with a distinguished green jacket. Proving themselves capable, the men of DEMAS filled many campus positions for the following year. As the seniors leave, they have the greatest of memories and the assurance that "... the thing about a guy in dear old DEMAS, he's a buddy who will never let you down."

The "welcome back" dance, given with Phi Alpha Psi, opened the year, and the Homecoming weekend, with Sue Berger as our Homecoming Queen, were two of the high spots that included orphans' parties (with Alpha Sigma Nu), dances, bake sales, and semester-end stags. The formal dinner dance in May brought the impressive year to a close.

Halfback Bob Famous dashed for a twenty-eight yard gain on this play against Wagner to help the Bears rally to win 19-12.

Charles "Chick" Obold was the team manager for four years and is shown here hurrying to the field with the first-aid kit.

Although the Bruins suffered a rather disappointing 3-4-1 football campaign, the gridders under coach Ray Gurzynski displayed the traditional fight and determination which characterize the Ursinus spirit. A host of serious injuries and "greenness" in key positions were detrimental factors in the 1956 season. Great individual performances were turned in each game by Captain Harry Donnelly at end and triple-threat halfback Bob Famous.

The Bears dropped their first game of the season to Susquehanna, 26-13, and then lost a surprisingly close battle to Drexel, 13-7, in a hard fought contest. The Bruins were victorious in their first contest with Wilkes, 20-6, led by Dick Padula, Andy Arger and Chris Rohm, but fell under a strong Swarthmore attack, 48-13, before a capacity Homecoming crowd. Bob Famous and Harry Donnelly sparked a strong passing game for the Bears in their 19-12 win over Wagner in a game which saw all the scoring come in the first half. The Bears held favored Haverford to a 7-7 tie in a see-saw contest at Haverford and then played the National Aggies for the first time and defeated the Doylestown eleven, 20-6, led by Rohm and Famous. The final contest of the year saw a strong Juniata team crush the Bears, 33-6, on a rain-soaked Patterson Field. The only score for the Bruins came on Famous' 96-yard touchdown run on the second half kickoff.

Seniors playing their final game were fullback Dick Padula, tackle Jerry Nunn, guard Dick Briner, end Les Applegate, center Bob Slotter, and captain Harry Donnelly. All played outstanding football for four years.

Quarterback Jack Prutzman is stopped by Susquehanna's Milroy on this play after picking up five yards against the Crusaders.

Swarthmore's Don Stauffer charges forward with an intercepted pass as Mike Drewniak, Bill Rogers, and Bob Famous make a valiant attempt to wall him in.

HARRY DONNELLY, after intercepting a Swarthmore pass, raced for twenty yards before Bob Ellis brought him down from behind.

LES APPLGATE . . . Although an injury sidelined him during the close of the 1956 season, Les aided the Bears considerably for three years at end.

BOB SLOTTTER . . . Bob saw a great deal of action at center for the Bruins during his four years of competition on the gridiron.

DICK BRINER, JERRY NUNN, AND DICK PADULA: "Bruno" led a strong Bruin line and was outstanding at his guard position in every contest. Huge "Gumbo" proved a stalwart on both offense and defense at tackle for the Bears, "Pooch" always drove for yardage from his fullback position and excelled as a defensive linebacker. All three competed for four years and survived many injuries in battling for the Bears.

Co-Captains Bill Rheiner and Dave Burger.

Led by Co-Captains Dave Berger and Bill Rheiner, the spirited Bruin soccer team closed its 1956 season with a record of two wins, five losses, and three ties. The Bruin Booters were victorious against La Salle (5-2), and the Alumni (4-0). One of the best team efforts was against the strong opposition of Lafayette in which the Leopards had to come from behind to tie the Bears 2-2 in two overtime periods.

Special honors go to Freshman Mike Blewett who led the scorers with nine goals and to Dave Burger who reached All-American recognition at his goalie position.

Coach "Doc" Baker added his own personal energy and experience to the spirit of the team.

"Burg" dives to save another one, an action which has kept opposing scores low in every game during his three years as goalie and leader of the Bear defense.

Severely handicapped by a lack of height in each contest, the Bruin basketball team dropped each of their sixteen games during the 1956-57 campaign. The Bears lost five games by two points or less and the second Haverford game was extended two overtime periods before the Bears succumbed once again. Victory proved very elusive throughout the entire season.

Don Sowers averaged 18 points a game and Captain Dave Burger played outstanding basketball in each contest. Beyond that, the squad was weak and coach Ried Watson will have to build around his JV team for next year.

Coach Ried Watson discusses strategy with captain Dave Burger.

Wayne Williams is blocked by his Swarthmore opponent in a bid for a field goal. The Garnet rallied to nip the Bears in the final seconds of play in this game.

A colorful JV basketball team showed constant improvement throughout the campaign and were much more impressive than their 4-10 record indicates. Captained by Freshman Jim Wenhold, the squad copped wins from Haverford, National Aggies, College of Pharmacy, and Rutgers of South Jersey. Wenhold, Al Wilson, and Rolf Johnson led the scoring while Warren Buckingham, Ted Kerschner, and John Myers played in the back-court. All showed great promise for the future.

Captain Jim Wenhold scores on a jump shot although surrounded by PMC players.

Jack Prutzman has a tight double bar arm on his Albright opponent who seems to be bending in the wrong direction. Jack easily won the match over his "rubber" opponent.

Padula and Elizabethtown's Hollinger size up each other in the early moments of their bout. Hollinger handed Dick his only defeat in college competition, scoring a 4-3 upset win.

Barrie Ciliberti watches the pitch carefully as it nears the plate in a game against Haverford College on the home diamond.

The Ursinus baseball squad entered the 1957 campaign confident of another winning season under coach Sieb Pancoast. Seven lettermen returned to the squad, headed by Captain Bob Slotter. Other Seniors included Barrie Ciliberti and Dick Hause, while Bob Famous, Wally Christ, Wayne Williams, and Bob "Inky" Wagner gave coach Pancoast an experienced team. The offense will undoubtedly be centered around Famous, Christ and Ciliberti while Slotter will handle the brunt of the pitching. A host of promising Freshmen should also help the Bears in producing another outstanding team.

Captain Bob Slotter warms up, confident of adding one more game to his high winning average.

Track

Co-captain Lee Lawhead breaks the tape in a workout on the local cinders.

Co-captain Skip Ruth has been the most consistent "weight man" during the past four years and can always be counted on for a top performance in the javelin, discus, and shot put.

Two outstanding spring runners will be returning to coach Gurzynski this spring in the persons of Karl Herwig and Ken Buggeln.

Senior Dave Burger will be counted on in the pole vaulting and high jumping events this spring.

Bob Grenitz has developed into a top weight man and should give the Bruins added support in the field events.

Paced by Co-captains Lee Lawhead and Skip Ruth, the Ursinus Cindermen awaited the opening of the track season with a great deal of optimism. Coach Ray Gurzynski welcomed ten lettermen back to the squad along with other hopeful candidates and promising freshmen.

Lawhead has excelled in middle-distance runs during his first three years and expected his best performances this season. Ruth also hoped to set several new records in the field events. Other outstanding seniors included Dave Burger, Al Frank, Dave Subin, and Bob Grenitz. Much was also expected from Ken Buggeln, Mark Weand, Bill McQuoid, and Dick Dickerson.

Tops in the hurdle events this year should be Mark Weand who showed great promise last spring.

Coach Ray Gurzynski gives instructions to Al Frank while Dave Subin, Bill McQuoid, Mark Weand, Paul Constantine, Warren North, Lee Lawhead, Skip Ruth, Rudy Dipple, Bob Grenitz, Ken Buggeln, Dave Burger, and Karl Herwig watch.

The Belles enjoyed a successful season losing only to Stroudsburg, 1-0, and breaking Beaver's four-year winning streak.

Ursinus was well-represented on the All-College teams. Captain Vonnie Gros, who later went on and made the All-American Reserve Team, and Pat Woodbury made first team; Marge Dawkins, Jane Dunn, Carol LeCato, Alice Irwin, and Lynn Custer—second; Sue Wagner—third; and Faye Bardman—honorable mention.

Boosted by freshman talent the J.V. team, coached by Jen P. Shillingford, ended the season with a 4-2-2 record. The only veteran players on this spirited team were Captain Lucy Fay, Dot McKnight, Tama Williams, and Elaine Emenheiser. Newcomers on both the J.V. and third teams added the zip and pep which produced winning teams and will form a strong nucleus for future varsities.

Basketball

Although the team cannot boast an undefeated season as last year, the Belles' wins far outnumbered the losses. The '57 season was highlighted by a trip to William and Mary.

Sparking the Belles' attack was high scorer Vonnie Gros. Two freshmen, Faye Bardman and Sue Wagner, merited berths on the starting line-up. The guards demonstrated a tight and unyielding defense with Captain Marge Dawkins, Pat Woodbury, and Rene Rawcliffe starting. Jane Dunn and Sue Harmon were also of valuable assistance at guard.

The J.V. Basketball team had a very successful season. The starting line-up consisted of sharpshooting sophomores Terry Jacobs, Elaine Emenheiser, and Lynn Custer at forward and Captain Jane Dunn, Sue Harmon, and freshman Gail Snyder in the guard positions. Depth was given to the squad by freshman Ingie Reiniger, sophomore Alice Irwin, and members of the third team. These girls will be the mainstay of future Ursinus varsities.

Lacrosse, in its third year at Ursinus, has become increasingly popular. Although still not on an intercollegiate basis, the club under new coach Marge Watson fared very well in the college play-day at Bryn Mawr. The highlight of the season was the trip to Vassar College where the girls had the benefit of expert coaching by well-known players and coaches.

W.A.A.

One of the chief purposes of the Women's Athletic Association is to stimulate interest in girls' sports. The W.A.A. began its program of activities with a novelty dance. The annual spring variety show displayed the wide array of talent found in the group. Culminating the year's activities was the annual banquet at which letters and awards were presented to the deserving girls.

Cheerleaders

With their "U with a U" and "Go, Bears, Go" the cheering squad does its share in building up the U.C. spirit. Always there rain or shine the squad supports their team at all gridiron and court contests. Chosen for appearance, spirit, and accuracy of motion, they make their contribution to the Red, Old Gold, and Black sports picture.

CHEERLEADERS

Spirit Committee

The Spirit Committee is one of the most active organizations on campus from the first football game to the last baseball inning. Dances, pep-rallies, pep-tags, and ribbons are the main ways in which enthusiasm is built up for the school activities. Among other functions the Spirit Committee combined efforts with the Ruby to give the student body a "Ship Wreck" dance the night after the Lorelei.

Majorettes...

The majorettes, in their red, old gold, and black uniforms, lend sparkle and color to the pre-game and half time activities at the football games. The seven girls worked closely with the band in its drills. One of the highlights of the 1956 football season to be remembered was the day the majorettes helped "Junior" join the band.

... old timers'

Homecoming . . . highlight of fall events at Ursinus. The girls were up early, decorating the dorms and hurrying off to sorority luncheons, while old grads flocked back to the campus. At the game, the fraternity queens were presented, and it was announced that Duryea had won the decoration awards. The day ended with the Varsity Club dance and the crowning of Deanne Farese, Queen of Sig Rho and of Homecoming 1956.

George Budd, Chairman of the Spirit Committee, thanked Raccoon-coated Dean Pettit and Flag-bearing H. Lloyd Jones for making a rousing guest appearance at the rally.

Duryea's display, a witch stirring a steaming cauldron with the determination to "Scald Swarthmore," won first prize for dorm decorations.

Christmas at Ursinus

Christmas at Ursinus was again a time of warmth and tradition. Messiah rehearsals ended with the real performance where students sang with hearts drowning out every voice. The women worked on table decorations, and the men decorated a mammoth tree for the dance and party in the T-G Gym. Christmas music filled the air later as the men went from dorm to dorm carolling until after midnight. All night dorm parties climaxed the gaiety and general good cheer of Christmas at Ursinus, 1956.

Bob Quinn played a jolly Santa Claus for all the Ursinus "kiddies."

Lorelei

Just as the Lorelei of old sang with strange enchantment to the boatmen on the Rhine, so the Ursinus maidens call every year to the gentlemen of their choice for the Lorelei dance at Sunnybrook. On the night of February 15, 1957, maidens and men danced to the more modern musical enchantment of Ben Napier and his band amid decorations of hearts and cupids. Every gentleman proudly wore a corsage of his Lorelei's creation, and faculty joined with student body to make this one of the biggest dance successes of the year.

Mrs. Pancoast crowned Dave Burger King of the Lorelei.

Even Dr. Miller sported a dashing corsage!

The "King" danced among his subjects with the lady of his choice.

Everyone enjoyed comparing corsages.
